Bargains in men's summer coats and vests at J. A. Hendricks'.

No doubt many of our readers remember Henry P. Myers, of Chautauk, in N. Y., who spent winter before last in Daytona. He is dead. J. M. Garland, one of Mr. Myers' special friends, has recently received intelligence of the occurrence, which took place May 26th at a sanitarium in Lima, Ohio. He was a Knight Templar and a member of the Methodist church, which he attended when here.

New stock of table linens and towels is just received at J. A. Hendricks'.

The famous old Stock that has carried bundles of joy and peace to many households in his limitless time was around to the little domestic castle of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Smith last Thursday evening. He left a wee bit of feminine sweetness that for a time at least will rule the cottage with her alternate smiles and tears. In the meantime, Bob is all smiles to his friends and the mother is happy and grand, while grandma looks wise and grandpa realizes that he is Mayor of a pretty little city whose population is constantly increasing by a natural process.

ROAD AGENTS AT WORK

County Commissioners T. L. Rodgers and T. J. Murray and Capt. J. B. Park and Alderman E. G. Harris, who compose the joint committee appointed to inspect the ground and plan the best and shortest route for a shell roadway from Daytona to New Smyrna, met on Thursday and went over the entire route. They are much encouraged by their observations. The route chosen will follow the west bank of the Halifax river, at close range, all the way down to Smyrna. There is an abundance of just the right kind of good shell material all along the route, and at intervals there are large shell mounds supposed to be the burial places of some prehistoric race that may have themselves had automobile and cart roads.

Civil Engineer D. D. Rogers, who is now in New York, has written a letter to Capt. Parkinson saying that W. E. Connor, the millowner, has agreed to build the two miles of the proposed road which will pass through his property at his own expense. In addition to this, Mr. Connor has subscribed $250 to the general fund. W. H. Peters has also subscribed $250 and T. L. Rodgers $100.

A general subscription book will be opened shortly, and then all who want to help along a good enterprise can come forward and chip in. The county road fund can not be depended upon to foot the whole bill.

BUILDING NOTES

The oldest inhabitant does not remember the time when there was a more substantial building boom in Daytona than the one now in progress. Here is a brief account of the improvements casually noted one day this week. It does not cover the whole field by any means:

J. L. Odum is erecting a six-room cottage on Beach street, near the North Canal bridge.

Work on Mrs. Beebe's cottage on South Ridgewood avenue is being rapidly pushed toward completion.

George Wray is erecting a handsome stone house building on Beach street, to be completed by August 1.

Carpenters have completed one house on Cedar street for I. R. Burns of New York, and have another house ready for the subject of this sketch and lived with her at Augusta until 1861, when he returned North to enter the Union army, leaving his wife with her people.

When Sherman made his famous march through Georgia Col. Weedon was one of that great host of invaders, and when they reached Savannah he was joined by his faithful Southern wife, she having bravely gone alone through both the Confederate and Federal lines from Augusta to Savannah at the peril of her life.

After the war they settled in Savannah, from which place they came to Daytona nearly thirty years ago. For a time Mrs. Weedon kept a military store here near the present site of the Palmetto House, but sold it out, and, with her husband, took up an honest homestead on Spruce Creek at a place called Ormann.

From Ormann the Weeds moved to Port Orange, bought property and went into the mercantile business. Then Col. Weedon died several years ago and there Mrs. Weedon made her home until her death last Monday.

The Weeds had no children of their own, but adopted a son and daughter in Georgia which they reared and educated.

The present whereabouts of the son is unknown here, but the daughter is Mrs. McLeod of Deland, whose kind hands ministered the last comforts and soothed the last moments of the good and godly woman, who though childless, was yet a kind and gentle mother.

The remains of Mrs. Weedon were interred in Pinewood Cemetery, Seabrook. Tuesday afternoon, beside those of her husband, Rev. C. M. Bligh officiated and a large number of the deceased's old friends attended the funeral.

S. H. Gove has a large force of men in his quarries on the Tomoka, getting out coquina rock for buildings he is constructing in this city. Seven tonne carloads a week is brought in.

S. H. Gove is building a winter home on Ridgewood for W. B. Chittenden of St. Louis. The building is modelled on the plan of the Christie residence on the opposite side of the avenue.

Contractor G. H. Bliven is rushing the work on the Peters coquina building and expects to have it ready for occupation by October 1. Mr. Peters will then open an automobile emporium.

Contractor Bliven is rushing the work on the Howard House, a new 24 room hotel building being erected on Volusia avenue, between Palmetto avenue and Beach street, by J. C. Howard of West Somerville, Mass.

H. W. Craig of Fremont, Ohio, who last winter purchased the Mitchell place on the peninsula, arrived from Ohio two weeks ago, and since his return has been making improvements on his property. A new water tower and a boat house have been erected.

Peter Seims, of St. Paul, Minnesota, has altered the plans for his palatial residence on South Beach street, now under construction by S. H. Gove. The building will be of solid coquina rock, and when completed will be one of the handsomest residences in Daytona.

Mrs. Nellie Morris has sold out her stock of dogs to H. C. Branner, of Palatka. Mr. Branner and family will occupy one of the Lyle cottages on Ocean Boulevard.

Goss Jones and wife, of Ponca Park, are visiting the family of C. P. Land. They took in the dance at the Clarendon Inn Pavilion Saturday night.

W. A. Baggett has opened a real estate and broker's office on Ocean Boulevard. He has the best wishes of the community for his success in this new venture.

Mrs. Nellie Morris has sold out her stock of dogs to H. C. Branner, of Palatka. Mr. Branner and family will occupy one of the Lyle cottages on Ocean Boulevard.

Mrs. J. B. Dumbauler, mother and son Ned, are with us again after several weeks stay at their old home place Geneva. They seem as happy to get back as we are to have them with us again.

M. C. Murphy and family, of Palatka, will spend the summer in their cottage on Ocean Boulevard. Our Palatka friends show the good taste and judgment by investing in Seabrook real estate.

To have good health the body should be kept in a laxative condition, and the bowels moved at least once a day so that all the poisonous wastes are expelled daily. Mr. G. L. Edwards, 142 N. Main St., Wichita, Kansas, writes: "I used Herbs to regulate the liver and bowels for the past ten years, and found it a reliable remedy."

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Titus desire to send thanks to their friends who kindly presented them with a handsome rocker as a wedding present.

DEATH OF AN OLD RESIDENT

Mrs. A. A. Weedon, of Port Orange, died Monday night in Deland, where she was visiting her adopted daughter, Mrs. E. D. McLeod. Mrs. Weedon was 77 years old, and in comparatively good health.

Monday evening she went calling on friends, but came home feeling tired from the exertion. After a hearty supper she retired to her bedroom to rest. About 10 o'clock Mrs. McLeod went to her mother's room and found her suffering from pains in her side and breathing heavily. She expired 30 minutes later.

Mrs. Weedon was the widow of the late Col. G. H. Weedon, who died a few years ago at Port Orange.

Mrs. Weedon was a Southern woman, a native of Augusta, Ga. Col. Weedon, however, was a New Yorker. He came South before the Civil War and married the subject of this sketch and lived with her at Augusta until 1861, when he returned North to enter the Union army, leaving his wife with her people.

Our community was shocked to hear of the sudden death of Mrs. A. A. Weedon Monday night. She was one of our oldest residents and will be missed by us, as a neighbor and in the church.

Last Sunday there was no service in Grace Church on account of the memorial window, which Mr. Bangs is putting in, not being completed. Services will be held on Sunday, July 5, at the usual time.

Last Friday was a good day for parties among the young folks. In the afternoon Miss Inez Barron celebrated the anniversary of her birth by entertaining a number of her little friends at a lawn party. In the evening Master Archie McDaniel gave a birthday party to his friends at the home of his parents in Blake, those from here who were present went up in Roll Johnson's launch.

On Saturday there was no service in Grace Church on account of the memorial window, which Mr. Bangs is putting in, not being completed. Services will be held on Sunday, July 5, at the usual time.
